'Miss Burma' Bows, Leads GOP Parade

by Nancy McCarthy

Wooster residents will be in for a shock when a foreign guest, "Miss Burma," invades their small metropolis on March 24. This elephant, the official mascot of the Republican Party, will play an essential role in the 1956 Mock Political Convention parade.

Paul Davies and Mr. Morrill, head of publicity, are joint chairmen of the affair. City officials, riding in the first few cars, the Scot Band, American Legion Color Guard, and various courtesy cars will be among the numerous participants. In addition, Ohio is sending a float for Bricker; Minnesota one for Stassen; Oregon for McKay; Michigan for Wilson; New York for Eisenhower. Nixon and Warren, the other two candidates, will have floats also, and the county has promised one in honor of the Centennial Republican Party.

The parade will begin at Buckeye and North Streets, turning west on Market. From there it will proceed north on Market to Quinby, turn east on Pearl and then north again on College.

Language Students Become Thespians

by Lee Bruce

On Thursday, March 22 at 7:30 and Friday, March 23 at the same time, the modern language departments of Spanish, French, and German will present their annual foreign language plays in Scott Auditorium.

Olive Seed Dispute

The Spanish Department is putting on two plays, Esgrima y Amor by Serafin and Joaquin Alvarez Quintero, and Paso Septimo by Lope de Rueda. The cast of the first play, Paso Septimo, are Richard Falek, Jack Harper, Barbara Hughes, Winifred Myers, and James Rainbeck. This is a short story of a man who plants olive seeds, and immediately he and his wife argue as to what the olives will be sold for at the market.

Seeing that the seeds will not produce olives for six or seven years, the argument is completely useless, but neither husband nor wife sees this.

Cast Includes

The cast of the second play, Esgrima y Amor, are Jack Harper, Julie Jerabek, Olimpo Lozano, and Sue Roberts.

A young lover comes to call on his girl's father to ask for her hand in marriage. The boy is mistaken for a student of fencing who

Fantastic Frolics Set Follies Afire

For the third time, Wooster presents the "Flaming Follies," in honor of the burning of Old Main in 1901. A joint student-faculty creation, the Flaming Follies will take place on Saturday, March 17, at 8 p.m. in the Chapel.

Master and mistress of ceremonies will be Ted D'Arms and Sally Anthony. Bill Whiting is directing the production. One of the main attractions of the evening, according to the committee, will be the beard-growing contest, to be judged by Miss Thomas, Miss Coyle, Miss Kaslo, and a representative from each class. Prizes will be given for beards that are longest and ugliest and for the best side-burns.

Woosterites Take-Off

The show has many acts. Some of these include a faculty monologue, Gilbert and Sullivan by the Gore and Carruth team, the McLeod Lassies, a scene from Hamlet by Jim Jolliff and Mary Elliot, and magic tricks by Dr. Gloye.

Trumps social club will sing and dance, the Third Section Quartet will sing, and a dancing act is to be presented by Jo Ann Feist. "Cash" Register will do some singing, Jack Ellis will be playing the piano, and the McClure and Townsend team are presenting musical entertainment.

Reviewer Praises Student Production

by Bill Whiting

In attempting to deal with The Silver Cord, one must keep in mind the fact that it was written during a comparatively hectic period of the American Theatre.

That it is still full of impact and a good deal of interest was aptly demonstrated last Thursday and Friday nights by a capable cast, in an IS production directed by Jan Coulson. To me, it was one of the best IS productions I have ever seen here, if not the best.

A Few Flaws

It had flaws: there was painfully obvious groping for lines at bad moments, and a couple of startling technical errors (such as the lights suddenly rising in the middle of a scene, and Miss Jones, in the role of Mrs. Phelps, pulling the wallboard off the set in an upsetting moment).

Assets Outweigh Liabilities

But the liabilities were far outweighed by the assets, which included top-notch directing, intelligent interpretation, excellent acting, and a very striking set.

Miss Coulson is first to be congratulated for bringing to the melodramatic play an intelligent approach that streamlined most of its outdated concepts and language (such as changing "pro-German" to "anti-American"), and gave it a basic unity of characterization.

Shirley Jones Successful

Speaking of characterization, Shirley Jones was extremely successful in incurring the everlasting animosity of the audience. She never slipped in a relentless build-up of a dominating, ruthlessly possessive woman.

Kay Vigrass and Jo Figland both gave top-notch performances as Hester and Christine, arousing both pity and admiration seemingly at will. Bob Watson and Gordon Wood contributed companion pieces to the ladies' performances, with Mr. Watson presenting an especially convincing portrayal of a confused, weak-willed, unhappy young man.

Two sets were required; they were both effective, and the first one was particularly pleasing to the eye. It was gratifying also, to have the scene shifted in a short amount of time.

Affairs. As an end result a United Nations conference met in London to prepare a constitution for UNESCO.

As a Representative he wrote the Mundt-Nixon Bill which was approved by the House in the 80th Congress but was not voted on by the Senate due to its adjournment. In 1949 Mundt re-introduced it in the Senate as the Mundt-Ferguson-Johnston-Nixon Bill. It was enacted into law in 1950 as the first 17 sections of the Internal Security Act. Consequently it became the first piece of legislature since the turn of the century — introduced by a Republican — to be adopted by a Democratic Congress over the veto of a Democratic President.

First in Russia

In 1945 Mr. Mundt, as a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, made an extensive tour through Europe, Asia, and Africa. His committee was the first Committee of Congress since 1939 to be given permission to enter Russia.

Observation to Legislation

Since then he has made two other similar trips to Europe, the last of which was in 1947 when he served as co-chairman of a Senate-House Committee. As a result of their investigation and on their recommendation, Mr. Mundt's Voice of America legislation (known as the Smith-Mundt Act) became a law in 1948.

Aside from his work within Congress Mr. Mundt has spoken in 45 states and more than 23 foreign countries on topics related to Conservation, Education, Americanism, Foreign Policies, and Public Affairs.

In 1953 he assisted in the organization of the National Forensic League, a nationwide honorary society recognizing meritorious high school work. Former editor of its magazine, The Rostrum, he is at present National President.

Mr. Mundt has also done extensive writing on conservation principles and their relationship to successful farming. In addition to having his articles published in more than 12 national magazines, he served as editorial writer for Outdoor America.

Girls' Chorus Tours To Nation's Capital

This past Wednesday morning at 9 saw the departure of the Girls' Chorus on their spring tour. Wednesday afternoon they sang at Duquesne High School in Duquesne, Pennsylvania, near Pittsburgh.

That evening they gave a full sacred concert at the Duquesne Presbyterian Church where Rev. William Thompson, father of chorus member Janie Thompson, presides as minister.

Traveling that night via the turnpike to Philadelphia, they sang Thursday at the dinner hour of the Sylvania Hotel and later that night at the First Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia.

Meet Washingtonians

Saturday in Washington, D.C., the chorus will sing for 300 guests of the College of Wooster and alumni in the Burgundy Room of the Sheraton Park Hotel. In the receiving line will be Honorable Justice and Mrs. Harold Burton, the Honorable and Mrs. Frank T. Bow, the Honorable and Mrs. P. Bolton. Dr. and Mrs. Wilson Compton, President Howard F. Lowry, and Miss Eve Richmond, the director.

Sing for Docherty

On Sunday, the girls are guests of Rev. James Docherty, last year's Religion-in-Life Week speaker, and minister of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, remembered as Peter Marshall's Church in Washington. They will sing two services there and that afternoon sing at the Riverdale Presbyterian Church in Hyattsville, Maryland, returning that night to give a full concert at Northminster Church in Washington.

Mock UN's Take Heaps Of Helpers

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to give some credit to many people behind the scenes of last Saturday's Mock UN. First, to those on the campus committee and the people whom they hood-winked into helping paint signs, collect card tables, and type stencils goes much appreciation.

The Office of Public Relations and Mr. Clapp's maintenance men were responsible for the physical arrangements.

Special credit for preliminary arrangements goes to the campus committee and assistant coordinator Edi Powers, also Miss Dunham and Saadideen Khayat. Thanks are also due Dr. Lowry, Myron Lord, Mr. Bindley, and the girls who acted as secretaries.

About 300 delegates assumed their seats in Severance Gymnasium during the lengthy debate on French colonialism.

Combination Downs French Maneuvers On Algerian Issue

The 300 delegates to the Mock United Nations General Assembly held here last Saturday found it took all day to pass a resolution advocating freer French reins on Algeria. The delegates from Antioch, Denison, Oberlin, Ohio Wesleyan, and Wooster assembled in Severance Gymnasium to hear Dr. Howard Lowry's welcoming address.

Six Hours of Debate

During six hours of parliamentary debate that kept microphone bearers on the run, it was apparent that many of the 60 nations represented would demand revisions of the original proposal before finally accepting any proposal.

Sweden (Wooster) opened the debate by proposing the resolution. France (Oberlin) immediately retorted with a speech questioning the competency of the General Assembly to deal with the Algerian question. Algeria, she maintained, is a part of territorial France.

French Spell Trouble

Throughout the day, but notably in the early part of the afternoon, the French delegation spelled trouble for the presiding chairman. First to tangle with their parliamentary wrangling was Speaker Ross Flanigan of Ohio Wesleyan. Speakers Dave Abell, Denison, and Jack Rice, Oberlin, had less trouble. However, by the time the first evening speaker, Eliot Stadler from Antioch, occupied the chair, France regained her original blocking procedure.

A French Walk

By the time Myron Lord, Speaker from Wooster, reached the chair, France was getting the worst of the debate. Stymied by a joint Swedish, Mexican, Luxembourg proposal, the French walked out of the Assembly.

Final Recommendation

The final resolution took this form: The United Nations recommended that the Republic of France take the following steps to end the problem in Algeria.

(a) That France lower her internal security forces stationed in Algeria by 5,000 men per year for 15 years, allowing Algeria to organize a national army and police system.

(b) That France lower her trade restrictions on Algeria allowing freer trade between Algeria and other nations.

(c) That basic civil rights are insured to all Algerian citizens by Basketball was still in the mill last week when the United Press announced the 1956 Ohio Conference All-Star team. Two Wooster standouts, Dick Garcia and Don Dixon, rated honorable mention.

Harkins Top Man

The first team, which consisted of the league's five top scorers, was headed by Akron's Mike Harkins (6-2), who led the Zips to the conference title with 447 points, a 27.9 average per game. Close behind Harkins in the balloting were Denison's Lou Mitchell (6-0), Muskingum's Lenny Nelson (6-3), Mt. Union's Don Talbert (6-4), and Wittenberg's Jack Hawken (6-2). Harkins and Hawken were the only Seniors as Mitchell is a Junior and Nelson and Talbert are but Sophomores.

The second team and honorable mention list rounded out the selections.

SECOND TEAM

Nick Dan, Marietta, Sharon, Pa., 6-1, Senior.
Dick Ondecker, Akron, Akron, 5-10, Junior.
Tom Davis, Denison, North Middle-town, Ky., 5-9, Senior.
Chuck Kessler, Capital, Columbus, 5-11, Sophomore.
Fred Golding, Akron, Akron, 6-6, Freshman.
Honorable Mention: Homer Gilchrist, Oberlin; Harry Groman, Heidelberg; Jerry Wirth, Otterbein; Terry Deems, Wittenberg; Dan Bumstead, Kenyon; Maynard Gore, Otterbein; Ray Pryear, Akron; Bill Hoot, Denison; Mike Outcalt, Capital; Joe McDaniel, Muskingum; Leigh Stockstill, Ohio Wesleyan; Russ Davis, Ohio Wesleyan; Dick Garcia, Wooster; Charles Kemp, Mount Union; Don Smith, Hiram; Tom Davis, Denison; Don Dixon, Wooster.

The first two teams of the Associated Press were identical to the UP selections. However, a third team was headed by Gerry Smith, the high scoring Wooster Senior.

Turning to baseball, here is the story on the rest of the National League. Although no pennants will fly, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, and Pittsburgh will add considerable interest to the race.

Philadelphia Manager Mayo Smith will again bank on the great pitching of Robin Roberts. The rest of the mound staff also appears sound despite a poor 1955 campaign. Jim Owens is the outstanding rookie candidate and should be a winner. Phils lack a consistent offensive threat as well

Cagers Receive Varsity Awards

Eight members of the 1955-56 Wooster basketball team will receive varsity awards. Among them are Captain-elect Dick Garcia, who will receive a miniature gold basketball in recognition of three years of service. Miniature gold basketball pins, the two-year awards, will be awarded to Captain Dick Barrett, Jerry Smith, and Chet Welty.

"W" Sweaters Awarded

Don Dixon, Tommy Justice, Roger Ramseyer, and Stan Totten will get varsity "W" sweaters for their first season of play. Of the four student managers, Bob Johnston will get a three-year basketball, Dick Craig, a two-year pin, and John Casteel and Howie Hecht, "W" sweaters.

The coaching staff is eagerly anticipating the 1956-1957 campaign as the Scots should have six lettermen back. Although Barrett is the only senior, Smith, a transfer student, has completed his eligibility. Next year's squad will also include some of this year's reserves as well as several members from the highly successful freshman team.

Four '55 Holdovers Spark First Team; Big Game With JV Quintet Cancelled

by Dan Collins

A 12-man All-Star team was picked by the Kenarden League coaches to represent the intramural loop in a clash with Jack Behringer's JV team after the season closed. The game had to be cancelled due to a conflict with the track team, which is unfortunate for basketball fans for the game should have been a good one.

Harkins Paces Ohio Conference

Final Ohio Conference basketball statistics released early this week revealed the top scorer to be Mike Harkins of champion Akron. The prolific forward tallied 447 markers for a 27.9 average in 16 games.

Although runnerup Don Talbert of Mt. Union scored 467 points, he played in four more games. This put his average at 24.6. Muskingum's Lenny Nelson connected for 463, a 24.7 pace. Rounding out the first five were Denison's Lou Mitchell, and Wittenberg's Jack Hawken.

Terry Deems, big 6-4 Wittenberg center, led all rebounders with 403, an average of 20.2. Mitchell took the runnerup spot with 18.5 while Nelson grabbed the third slot on 17.7. Lofty Bob Gutman of Oberlin and Mike Outcalt of Capital completed the rebounding quintet.

The final standings of the clubs for conference records are below.

Kenarden Basketball League Winds Up; Fifth, Seventh, Sixth, Lead Top Division

Fifth finished the season with a perfect slate of 14 wins and no losses to take their third consecutive Kenarden League basketball championship. Finishing close behind were Seventh and Sixth. In the final few games of the season, Fifth stopped Sixth, 63-52, with Bob Rafos leading the winners with 18 points. Backing him up were Dick Baragry with 14, Bill Kardos with 11, and Satch Falck with 10. Long John Ballentyne paced Sixth with 12.

Seventh thumped Eighth, 72-50, behind Bill Stoops who rang up 23 markers. All five starters hit double figures for Seventh, with Bernie Davis collecting 18 points, Gar Compton 11, and Bob Bush and Dave Anderson 10 each. Dan Collins dropped in 17 for the losers.

Third outran Fourth, 68-52, with Walt Ramage and Hany Hopper collecting 20 points each and Paul Davies following up with 16. Mike Proudfit was high for Fourth with 21, backed up by Roger Hall with 10.

Second Wins in Overtime

First dropped their third overtime decision of the season by a 55-47 count to a determined crew from Second. Ralph Morrison had 15 points for the winners and Kim Brown, who collected four of his team's eight points in the overtime period, finished with 11. Bob Christy hit for 18 for First, followed by Howie Heicht with 10.

Sixth coasted to a 74-17 win over Fourth behind Fred Meyerhoefer's 20 points. John Ballentyne had 16 and Jim Singer 12 in support. Eighth wrapped the season up by breezing to a 64-37 victory over Hopper-less Third Section. Dick Stevic had 17, Al Woltenberg 14, Ralph Shilling 12, Bill Crawford 11 and Dan Collins 10 for the winners. Ed Moore paced Third with 19.

Coach Shipe Holds Clinic On Saturday

With Warren Lahr, Cleveland Browns halfback as his featured speaker, Coach Phil Shipe has completed his program for the sixth annual football clinic to be held at The College of Wooster Saturday, March 17.

After morning registration the coaches will be welcomed by Homer Hess, president of the Alumni "W" Association, Athletic Director E. M. Hole and Dr. William Tausch, Dean of the College.

Morning sessions on 11-man football will include discussions on "Offensive Line Play," Bob McNea, of Mansfield High; "Single Wing Deception," Charles Buzard of New Brighton, Pa., High; "Pre-Season Organization," Coach Shipe.

For the evening session, to follow a fish fry, the program will be of a lighter turn. Coaches will see the Hi-Lights of the Wooster Scots and the Mansfield High 1955 football movies. Don Shawver, a graduate of Wooster, will give his humorous talk entitled "Gamemanship — How to Win Without Cheating (If Possible)."

For The Girls

by Anne Marsh

The spring events are really in the swing by now. The campus is buzzing fast and furiously. The women's physical education department is no exception. What with the blood drive, co-ed fun night, and the Sharks review, besides the regular bowling and badminton we're managing to keep pretty busy.

Blood Drive Quota

Last Wednesday and Thursday nights were sign-up nights for the Red Cross Blood Donation Day next Tuesday, March 20. If the donations go as well as the scheduling did we're sure to reach our quota of 170 pints. Just a reminder: If you didn't turn in your parent consent card when you signed up to give blood be sure to bring it with you when you come to Lower Kauke on Tuesday for your donation.

Tonight in the gym you are in for a treat. The WAA is sponsoring a Co-ed Fun Night. There will be badminton, volleyball, ping pong, swimming, and bridge. A door prize will be given too. You are assured of a good time if you'll come to the gym tonight between 7:30 and 10:30. Bring a date or come by yourself.

Get Date for Review!

It's time you were getting a date lined up for the Sharks review on March 19, 20, 21. Walt Disney's Carousel looks like it's going to live up to the reputation that the Sharks have for a wonderful show every year. Be sure to save 30c to pay for your ticket.

Keep these dates in mind and be sure to mark them on your calendar!

Baseball Outlook

as a strong bench. There may be some trades!

The Cubs have valuable young talent and could easily rise from last year's sixth place finish. There is nothing wrong with the infield which features Ernie Banks, top major league shortstop. The troubles, however, are elsewhere. Even with the addition of ex-Giant star Monte Irvin, the Bears still have severe outfield problems. The pitching staff of Hacker, Rush, and Jones is good but the lack of depth is going to hurt.

Cards May Fly

Although Stan Musial and Red Schoendienst are beginning to fade, the Cardinals could bounce back into contention with their fine sophomore talent headed by outfielder Bill Virden and infielder Ken Boyer. The main concern seems to be the pitching department despite the return of "Vinegar Bend" Mizell. The 1956 Cards, however, have potential and will be most interesting to watch.

The outlook for the Pirates is brighter than its been for a long time. With a young club, the Bucs are just about ready to leave the basement. Freshman manager Bobby Bragan inherits fair pitching but weak power. Only Frank Thomas and Dale Long are slugging threats, although the O'Brien twins, Dick Groat, and Robert Clements have sparkling caliber.

Oberlin Matmen Pin Conference Crown

The Wooster College wrestling team, coached by Phil Shipe, failed to score at the third annual Ohio Conference wrestling tournament, but nevertheless, made a good showing. The meet was won by Oberlin, although a strong Akron team, which had triumphed the two previous years, was favored.

Abel Triumphs

Of the three grapplers entered by Shipe, only Jack Abel was victorious. Abel won his first match from Wittenberg's Dick Yurich but dropped the next round to Mt. Union's Jack Calbert. The two other Wooster entries, Pete Pay and Ed Gould, bowed to the conference champions, Akron's Mario Russo and Grover Miller, respectively.

Other matmen who have been working out regularly at Douglass Hall include Tom McCullough and Ray Scott.

Representatives Hear Mr. Berke

Congressional Club met last Thursday in a special meeting for the purpose of hearing Mr. Morris Berke, a representative of the United States Civil Service Commission, who spoke on the subject, "Careers with the United States Government."

Congressional Club met again yesterday, in special session, with members of the Faculty Committee on Hell Week to discuss the bill on Hell Week.

had an appointment with the father at the same time.

The lover becomes quite confused and frightened when the father begins sword work with him. When the true fencing student shows up, things are straightened up with a comical twist.

A French Comedy

The French play is entitled La Bal des Voleurs, a comedy in three acts by Jean Anouilh, the author of the recently translated Lark. The cast includes Russell Blackner, Bob Chestnut, Ted D'Arms, Marian Emke, Dave Fankhauser, Sylvia Gibbs, Saadideen Khayat, Francoise Mazet, Mike Moore, Margaret Scott, and Marianne Theis, along with five dancers.

The play is a fantasy about three thieves who, disguised as Spanish noblemen, take advantage of a rich lady. The youngest of the thieves, who has fallen in love with the old lady's niece, pleads with his companions to leave.

While they attend a ball, the youngest thief packs to leave, taking with him the valuables of the rich lady's home. At this point the niece enters, and the play's turning point is reached.

German "Will Tell"

The play put on by the German department is entitled Wilhelm Tell by Friederich von Schiller. In the cast are Harlan Christman, Grido Grambergs, Fred Hoffman, Philip Nader, David Neland, Jay Sheridan, and Bill Whiting.

The play tells of Governor Gessler who demands all the people of the Cantons of Switzerland to bow before his hat which he has erected in the square of Altdorf. Wilhelm Tell refuses to bow before the hat. He is taken captive by the soldiers.

The people try to free him, but when Gessler comes he demands as a penalty that Tell shoot an apple off his son's head. Only Act III, Scene III of the play is being produced.
